

11th May 2020

Dear Parents,

I hope my update finds you, your family and friends well. I am sure that many parents watched the Prime Minister's address on Sunday 10th May and whilst there were some messages about returning to school, there is as yet no detail. The key date mentioned by the PM is 1st June, which is the beginning of the last half term (after what is more traditionally known as Whit week). I will write to parents once more detail on school opening is issued by the Government as I feel there may still be a long way to travel before children come back and lots to think about and organise.

In other news, new work packs will be ready to pick up from Monday 18th May. These will be placed in year groups in the recycling area every morning. They relate to a child's year group rather than by name so it will be case of parents coming along and collecting a pack from the relevant year group rather than searching through to find a pack with your son or daughter's name. Once again, if you would prefer an email then we can send them out from Monday, just let us know at the office5@netherfieldprimaryschool.com email address.

FSM vouchers by email have all been ordered and delivered, the postal versions will be sorted this week, so expect an envelope through your letterbox at some point. These vouchers cover the period up to Friday May 22nd, so depending on what further guidance is given out in regard to the easing of measures then we will once again have to see where we go from here.

I think that is where we are up to this morning. Please keep using Class Dojo and communicating with our staff through the App, keep posting your children's work and continue to stay safe.

Best regards

Mr Crone
